Maximum principles for nonlocal minimal surfaces

Enrico Valdinoci

University of Western Australia

If two nonlocal minimal surfaces are nested one within the other and touch at a point, they must necessarily coincide. While this aligns with intuition, the proof of this fact is perhaps less straightforward than it initially appears.

More information at: `https://mat.uab.cat/web/seminarianalisi/`